Summer 2015

President's Message

I am filled with gratitude at this moment. The past few weeks have been filled with opportunities not only for service but for giving as well. It touches my heart to see first hand the spirit and generosity of my neighbors.

Many thanks to the ACT for hosting Spring2Action. This one day fund raising event led to $17,000 from 183 donors! We are grateful to both ACT for Alexandria and the donors who participated.

The May 3 Step ALIVE! CDC Walkathon: Thank you to all of the walkers and virtual walkers who supported Step ALIVE!. Thank you to the many donors who reached a little deeper into their pockets to make donations to the Walkathon. Double thank you to the scores of volunteers who helped make the day a success doing everything from manning water stations, driving the rescue van, setting up for the picnic, marking out the route and all the other tasks that go into a major city-wide event. Without YOU, the children would lack a wonderful pre-school that sets them on a path for success for the future. Then there are the extra special people who make it happen: Mary Eileen Dixon who works tirelessly all year to ensure that the Walkathon succeeds and that the students have the best opportunities for learning; Pam Blankenship, Director, who works on every aspect of the students' success in school, the wonderful teachers who ensure that the students who graduate from the CDC are prepared when they start kindergarten and the parents who work as hard as they can so their children have a chance for success.

HUGE Thank you to Brian McCormick who led the May 14 US Post Office Food Drive. Brian worked for weeks in advance of the event to make sure that everything would work like clock work on the day of the big event. The Alexandria postal workers who already have a tough job, picked up over 11,000 pounds of food to donate to ALIVE! Special thanks to Charlotte

Step ALIVE! 2015 A BIG SUCCESS

By any measure, Step ALIVE! 2015, the Child Development Center's main fundraiser, was a tremendous success. It was a beautiful day, record numbers of individuals and businesses supported it, and it culminated in a lively party.

At 2:00 pm, on Sunday, May 3, following introductory remarks by Alexandria Mayor Bill Euille and ALIVE! Executive Director Diane Charles, approximately 150 walkers headed toward Old Town, accompanied by the stirring notes of bag-piper Eric Rice-Johnston. These actual walkers were joined in spirit by another 100 "virtual" walkers who had also signed up to support the CDC.

The walkers made a striking display as they headed out in their bright orange T-shirts. The backs of the T-shirts were crowded with the logos or names of a record number of sponsors, including 37 businesses or large groups and 31 ALIVE! member congregations.

Following their stroll through Old Town, Step ALIVE! participants returned to First Christian Church for a delightful picnic featuring delicious food and sought-after door prizes. Attendees also enjoyed wonderful bluegrass music performed by members of the New Mode/Taste of Bluegrass bands, as well as rousing selections by the 16th Tabernacle A Cappella choir.

Although proceeds from Step ALIVE! are still being finalized, it is expected to realize more than $65,000, definitely the most successful CDC Walkathon to date.

In addition to the sponsors identified on the next page, the CDC would like to thank the following businesses for their support of Step ALIVE! 2015: Alexandria Cupcake, B&C Jewelers, Five Guys, Giant Food, Hard Times Cafe, Harris Teeter, Jeffrey's Catering Company, Killer E.S.P., MOM's Organic Market, Pacers, Robcyn's, Rocklands Barbecue and Catering Company, Whole Foods Market, and Zoës Kitchen.

Notes from the Executive Director - Diane Charles

As summer arrives, so do different kinds of challenges facing families who struggle financially. Meals for children that are provided at school are not available. So, ALIVE!'s safety net is equally as important in July as it is in October. This means our programs and our volunteers will continue to serve our neighbors in need throughout the summer. The financial support to do so is equally as critical.

This year at ALIVE!, summer also represents a time of transition. We have some incredible volunteer leaders stepping down from key program and committee positions that will be felt all around. Linda Coleman and Vivian Webb, the Co-Chairs of the Family Emergency Program, have put their heart and soul into operating a compassionate and efficient program that ensures hundreds of Alexandrians each year can continue to live in their apartments. ALIVE! is grateful for what each of them has brought to ALIVE! over their many years of service. We look forward to them continuing to be involved – in varying capacities.

Cathy Thompson is stepping down as the Chair of the ALIVE! Personnel Committee where she has served for many years. Cathy is someone who can tell a vivid story of ALIVE! just by the evolution of ALIVE!'s improvements in employment practices and benefits offered. She has been the stalwart for all things relating to the way ALIVE! engages its personnel, making sure policies were developed where and when needed and helping to make ALIVE! a desirable place to work.

ALIVE! is grateful for each of these key people and all they have done to ensure that ALIVE! continues its mission of serving our Alexandria neighbors in need.

Summer at ALIVE! also means a step towards increased efficiency for our emergency food programs! Thanks to the City of Alexandria, the future will bring expanded warehouse space and the needed renovations to make the space safe for all Alexandria's food providers and pantries. As a result, emergency food operations in Alexandria will see significant improvements in collaboration, storage and distribution. ALIVE! and all Alexandria food pantries are thrilled that the Alexandria City Council included funding in the FY2016 budget to cover required renovation costs.

With the increased warehouse space, ALIVE! will coordinate the access and storage of all Alexandria's food providers, enabling collaboration for refrigeration, cleaning and storing of emergency food. Food and fresh produce that often could not be used by emergency food providers in Alexandria will now be put to use. The renovations will get underway this summer and we foresee the expanded space use by the fall.

Fighting Hunger at an Early Age

When five-year-old Campbell Reid asked his parents about people who are hungry and whether he could share his breakfast with them, the Reid family began a journey that they had not envisioned. After learning about food needs at his school, St. Stephen's & St. Agnes, kindergartener Campbell asked many questions. He was so impacted by what he learned that he asked his parents if he could setup a stand to help get food available to those who need it. Soon, with the help of mom and dad (Mike & Lauren Reid), Campbell's "More Than Soup" food drive was born. He also got help from his teachers and friends who assisted in making flyers and spreading the word in the community, as well as through the school's newsletters and on social media.

Throughout the month of April, Campbell was at Safeway after school and on Saturdays collecting food for ALIVE! He also collected money ($247) for ALIVE! when it was explained to him that funds were needed to purchase eggs and milk. Over a hundred boxes of cereal and several hundred pounds of peanut butter, tuna, soups, and other much needed canned food were the results of five-year-old Campbell's efforts! Campbell's parents and schoolmates delivered the collected food to the ALIVE! warehouse and even came to visit one of the ALIVE! Last Saturday Food Distributions - so that Campbell got the complete picture of what his actions meant to those in the community who were in need of food.

Martinson, Jon Perlman and Suzanne Pollock and all of the volunteers who helped load and unload the food on Saturday and the volunteers who toiled on Mother's Day sorting the food in the warehouse.

Only a week later, an army of volunteers led by Susanne Arnold spent countless hours aiding in the success of the ALIVE! House Sidewalk Sale. Thank you to all who volunteered and to all who shopped at the sidewalk sale. It was a busy few weeks.... but we cannot rest. In spite of the generosity of the community, we are still struggling to meet the need. We must continue to work as hard as we can to help our neighbors in need as the working poor face ever higher costs and fewer job opportunities. We need your help if we are to continue to meet the needs of our neighbors. Please help us make Alexandria a City of Opportunity for all of its citizens.

Deborah Patterson

ALIVE! donors did something extraordinary on April 22! Through Spring2ACTion, Alexandria's day of giving, they gave more than $17,000 for emergency assistance for families in need. Because of those donations, ALIVE! is there with a safety net for people who are sick, elderly, unemployed and struggling to pay their bills. Thank you to everyone who gave and helped to spread the word that day...you are the reason that a neighbor's burden is eased and hope is restored.

THANK YOU!

INCREMENTAL CHANGES!

At ALIVE! House, it is important to know that there are always life changing incremental steps that happen daily. Often when a family is ready to move out, it is easier to look back at the entire progress of their time at ALIVE! House and see how much they have overcome to be self-sufficient. During that time, each week brings a new challenge and a new small success. A small step may seem minor, but it is actually something to be celebrated. Even a step back can be celebrated if the resident can learn from it, as challenges bring the greatest growth.

This month, a resident learned to use her voice when she needed to, another resident found a better job with her constant determination, and another resident chose to be assertive instead of passive aggressive. Best of all, one of our residents was able to see her potential. These are huge victories wrapped up in small steps that are so important because their children see these steps too. The growth that our residents make gets passed onto their kids, and they move forward, closer to reaching the goals they have set at the beginning of their stay. By learning this process of small steps forward and how to cope with challenges, our residents can continue to be successful throughout their time here and when they leave ALIVE! House.

SIDEWALK SALE

Rain was in the forecast for days before the sale, but everyone held out hope that it would change. Change it did! We were blessed with a hot, sunny day perfect for shopping! On Friday, ACT for Alexandria volunteers loaded the donations into the ALIVE! trucks while other volunteers cleaned up around ALIVE! House. The trucks were parked overnight on S. Payne Street, ready for the volunteers who arrived at 6 am on Saturday, May 16th to set-up the tables and unload the donations. Even before set-up was completed, the volunteers were selling! Everyone's spirits were up, and many shoppers stopped by to learn more about ALIVE! House. Some former residents were involved as well as neighbors, social workers, ALIVE! Board members and friends. Current residents took part and helped with clean-up - a great opportunity to learn about community and giving back. On an even more positive note, we raised nearly $5000 for ALIVE! House. Thanks to all the volunteers who made the sale a success. One new volunteer had this to say, "I was a first time volunteer and I was really impressed with the event. It was well organized. The volunteers each did a lot of heavy lifting, but all were cheerful as we knew we were helping with a worthy cause. You can expect me back next year." A very special thanks to Susanne Arnold and Ann Matikan for their tireless effort to organize this event!

Once again, ALIVE! has been recognized as "one of the best" by The Catalogue for Philanthropy. The Catalogue for Philanthropy aims to take the guesswork out of giving by identifying the best community-based charities in Washington D.C. and suburban Maryland and Virginia. ALIVE! is honored that they see what we see: an organization that gives real help to Alexandrians who are struggling to break the cycle of poverty. Thank you to all of ALIVE!'s wonderful volunteers and donors who make us a powerful force for good!

ALIVE! Food Program Charlotte Martinsson, Food Program Chair

This winter when the cold wind was blowing and we were all thinking about the warm weather that spring would bring, Letter Carrier Brian McCormick was thinking spring for another reason. He was preparing for the USPS Stamp Out Hunger Food Drive, which brings a much needed supply of food to families in need during the summer months when need is highest and supplies are dwindling.

This year the men and women of the U.S. Postal Service distributed thousands of bags to households throughout the region. Alexandria responded with donations of nearly 12,000 pounds of food which will help feed about 1,000 needy Alexandria families each month through the ALIVE! Last Saturday Food Distributions this summer and fall.

Some bags had four or five items, some weighed many, many pounds, and some were attached to even larger bags with arm loads of food. And even though the day was warm, and the carriers not only hauled the mail but walked weighted down with the extra load, they returned with ear-to-ear grins. “We’re glad to do it,” said one as she unloaded her truck. Another returned with bins and bins of food. “We want to help,” said another. And on it went, truck after truck, carrier after carrier, bag after bag, until around 6 p.m. when ALIVE! volunteers loaded the mail bags onto trucks and wheeled them into the ALIVE! food warehouse.

The next day, fueled by pizza supplied at half price by Domino’s North Henry Street location, ALIVE! volunteers sorted all 12,000 pounds in less than three hours. Nothing could have happened without wonderful volunteers: Samantha Fontenelle and about 10 folks from the U.S. Public Health Service Commissioned Corps; Zita Abaiweh from Mark Twain Middle School; two young ladies from Bishop Ireton High School; students and a chaperone from Episcopal High School; Shaheed Patterson and recruits from the Capital Youth Empowerment program; students from New Beginnings and Sheltercare; Isabel Pollack, LaVonne Williams and members of the Alexandria Labor Coop; and Deborah Patterson, Beth and Donald Campbell, Charlotte Martinsson, Susan Pollack, and John Perlman.

ALIVE! is grateful to the City of Alexandria’s Fund for Human Services for a multiyear investment in our Food and Family Emergency Programs. This grant will allow ALIVE! to respond to the needs of many in our City who are not able to make ends meet. We appreciate the opportunity to put the City’s concern for others into action, and we look forward to a continued partnership. Thanks, Alexandria!

ALIVE! was thrilled to learn that their nominee and long-time partner, the Del Ray Business Association, was selected to receive the Alexandria 2015 Business Philanthropist of the Year award at the 17th Annual Volunteer Alexandria Business Philanthropy Summit on May 6th.

The Del Ray Business Association (DRBA) exemplifies the philosophy that when the entire community is improved, everyone benefits. DRBA enables collected food and financial support to come to ALIVE! from the proceeds of their annual Turkey Trot. Numerous other events that promote the Del Ray business community and steer community support to many of Alexandria’s nonprofit organizations are also a part of DRBA’s repertoire of good deeds. ALIVE! congratulates DRBA and thanks them for their support!

VOLUNTEERS PROVIDE SPRING “SPRUCE UP” TO CDC

Thanks to the efforts of several volunteer groups, ALIVE! Child Development Center (CDC) students, parents, and staff are enjoying a greatly “spruced up” facility.

On Friday, April 24th, 14 students from T. C. Williams High School’s International Academy arrived at the CDC ready to work. Accompanied by faculty adviser Christal Jackson and speaking a variety of languages, these young people weeded, mulched, and added new plants to landscaped areas adjacent to the CDC entrance, as well as cleaned up the CDC playground.

The next day, Saturday, April 25, volunteers with Rebuilding Together Alexandria, including a number of members of the Community Praise Center, an ALIVE! member congregation, came together to repaint CDC entryways and the boys’ and girls’ bathrooms. The CDC was one of 38 Alexandria nonprofits and private residences to benefit from the work of RTA on that day.

On Sunday, May 31, a work group from the Old Presbyterian Meeting House gathered at the CDC to repaint the Blue Room, one of the CDC’s three classrooms. This project was part of a day of service organized by OPMH for members of its congregation. Eight other local agencies also benefitted from their efforts on that day.

ALIVE! and the CDC are very grateful for each of these “Spruce Up” efforts which will stand the CDC in good stead when it is visited twice this spring and summer by site inspectors as part of two different accreditation and quality evaluation processes.

Amanda is Running .. for ALIVE! House!

ALIVE! House Director, Amanda Isaac, is putting her running passion to work for what she says is “near and dear to my heart”: ALIVE! House. Registered and underway in her training regimen, Amanda will run this year’s Marine Corps Marathon on October 25th to raise funds for ALIVE!’s shelter for women with children who are seeking self-sufficiency. Go to www.razoo.com/alivehouse to learn how you can support Amanda (and ALIVE! House) in her journey to raise funds for this extremely valuable program. Watch for more information on other ways the ALIVE! community can help Amanda raise funds and provide support as she trains for this marathon!
